What is MailDeveloper

MailDeveloper is an advanced email editor for creating responsive HTML email templates.

MailDeveloper was built to minimize human error in HTML email template development by wrapping common template patterns in a web-based graphical editor. The editor handles all common email patterns, while the email structure is fully controlled by the user (unlike most module-based editors).

Advanced features include:
– Webhooks (upon saving)
– Custom CSS (inlined upon export)
– Custom JavaScript (executed upon export, allowing automated and unlimited customizing of the exported HTML)

Emails can be exported as HTML or sent as tests from the editor. Exported emails work gracefully across all common email clients. If desired, test emails (to e.g. Litmus or EmailOnAcid) can be sent directly from the editor.

https://maildeveloper.com

Free online demo available (no sign-up required):
https://maildeveloper.com/demo

For more information, please contact:
info@maildeveloper.com